

DAVIS USES NO GLOVES IN HIS G. O. P. ATTACK

Democratic Presidential Candidate Ready to Abandon Issues and Let Campaign Be Decid- ed on Records

DIGS UP SCANDALS

Tells of Teapot Dome, Forbes' Re- gime in Veteran Bureau, as Well as Bonus and Postal Salaries Increase Vetoes

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Responding to an ovation from a great crowd that greeted him here, John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, struck out tonight against the Republican party with gloves off. He said he was willing to cast asides

Then, Mr. Davis went into the record with terse phrases. When he mentioned Teapot Dome, the crowd roared. Then Mr. Davis referred to the man who "rode at the head of the buccaners," a man who he said "was no less a figure than the secretary of the interior himself."

"Little green house on K street." ("Jesse Smith's desk beside the desk of the attorney general."

100-Per. Cost Honesty Guaranteed

Forbes and the Veterans' bureau scandal came in for attack. Reiterating that he had not and would not say anything in disparagement of "the present occupant of the White House," Mr. Davis again insisted that political parties "must be held responsible for the acts of those places in power." But, he said, "the Republican party sought to escape from its responsibility because a Nehemiah had come to the wheel of state."

When Mr. Davis came to review the record of the Republican party on legislative matters, including the veto by President Coolidge of the bonus bill, and the postal employment bill, he was admonished by some of his auditors to "hit 'em hard."

Reviewing the achievements of the Wilson administration, Mr. Davis

"Nothing more is needed than take two great canvases and put upon them a picture. First, of 20 years under the Democratic administration and then of three and a half years under the rule of the Republican party, and say to the American people, 'look upon this picture as it then upon that, and take your choice for the four years that are to come.'"

AUTOMOBILES AND PIANOS
MIXED IN RAILROAD WRECK

Rochester, Sept. 18.—Heavy property loss was predicted by officials the result of derailment of three freight cars on the Lehigh Valley railroad by a defective switch near Stafford early today. Traffic was stopped for several hours, all three tracks being blocked by the wrecked cars. One of the cars was loaded with automobiles and a second with pianos.

A wrecking crew from Manchester reinforced by a work crew from Buffalo, attacked the pile of debris and succeeded in clearing the tracks early afternoon.

FLYERS ARRIVE SAFELY AT MUSKOGEE, OKL.

The 340-mile hop from St. Joseph to the field took three hours and 10 minutes.

The appearance of the planes over the city was the signal for whistles and sirens to shriek a welcome.

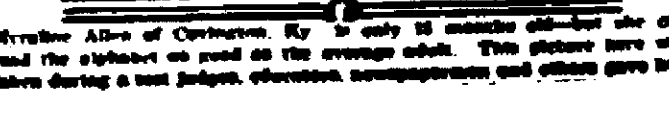

The flyers after leaving their planes entered motor cars and were driven around the field. The official party

GIANTS STILL IN LEAD

Drop First Game to Reds, but Captain Sumner—Prince of Wales Promoted.

New York, Sept. 18.—The New York Giants divided a double header with Cincinnati today and retained their lead in the pennant battle by a half game.

The champions dropped the first game to the Reds by a score of 5 to 2, but rallied to capture the second, 7 to 4, part of which was witnessed by the Prince of Wales.

It was the prince's first glimpse of America's national game. He stayed less than three innings, however, arriving unexpectedly.

A four-run rally in the seventh inning clinched the game for the Reds and drove Howard Baldwin, rookie twinner, from the mound after he had pitched brilliantly for six innings. Eddie Roush cleared the bases with a triple and scored the fourth run himself on Greener's single. Adolpho Luque held the Giants to five hits, three of them being made in the first inning.

Jack Bentley and Eppa Rixey, left-handed stars, both were hit hard in the second game today. The latter being hit by the Giants for 15 safe blows in the seven innings he worked.

Cincinnati tied the score in the first half of the seventh on successive singles by Duncan, Roush, and Walker, but the Giants came back to clinch the game in their half when Glady drove in Southworth and Jackson with a single.

BROOKLYN GAINS HALF-GAME

Take Two From St. Louis—Value Wins 15th Consecutive Game.

Brooklyn, Sept. 18.—Brooklyn won both games of a double header with St. Louis here today, 7 to 5 and 4 to 2, and advanced to within half a game of the lead.

The first game was a 12-inning affair, but the Dodgers emerged victorious after a see-saw session in which Danny Vance, Brooklyn's star pitcher, was sent in as relief after Dutch Ruether had been knocked out, and Grimes had suffered an injury to his right arm when hit by a pitched ball. The speed king was credited with his 15th straight victory and his 37th of the season. Incidentally he fanned six batters in the four innings he worked and brought up his total to 244.

Each Wheat won the game for the Dodgers with a home run in the 12th, the fifth of the year with Mitchell on base.

Bill Doak outpitched Dickerman and Dyer in the second game, Dickerman being taken out after the Dodgers had gained a two-run lead.

First game: R H E St. Louis . . . 000 000 101—5 11 1 Brooklyn . . . 010 000 210—7 14 0 Batteries . . . Dyer, Heine, Seider, Grimes and Gonzalez; Neibergall, Ruether, Grimes, Vance and Taylor, DeBerry.

PIRATES LOSE AND WIN.

Both Games With Philadelphia Decided in Ninth Inning.

Philadelphia, Sept. 18.—Philadelphia held Pittsburgh to an even split in a double header here today. After dropping the first game, 5 to 3, the Pirates came back in the second and by a ninth inning rally won, 4 to 3. Carlson opposed Meadows in the box and worked hard to defeat his old

AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

Should the same grip be used for both the woods and the irons? Why or why not? What difference should be made, if any?

Answered by CLARENCE HACKETT.

Winner of the Canadian open championship in 1922-23. Also winner of the Philadelphia open championship in 1922-23 and the professional championship in 1921-22. Runner-up in many sectional tournaments, including the North and South championships four times in seven years.

The same grip is used on all clubs. The stance and swing varies, but the grip is the same. Good players, on an average, grip a bit more firmly and strike more crisply on the iron shots, but the position of the fingers is the same on both woods and irons. The question of grip is simple and should worry nobody. Perhaps there's some excuse for a hurried backer, an incorrect pivot, a failure to follow through, or other gaffing faults, but certainly none for a bad grip. The position of the palms and fingers can be thought out and learned in advance, and the correct grip secured with careful deliberation.

CUBS AND BRAVES DIVIDE

Chicago Wins Opener in 11 Innings, But Are Held to Three Hits by Genewich in Aftermath.

Boston, Sept. 18.—Chicago divided a twin bill with Boston today. The Cubs won the first game by defeating Boston, 4 to 3, in 11 innings. In the second game the Braves turned the tables when Genewich held the visitors to three hits, winning, 3 to 1.

WASHINGTON WINS IN KENT.

Make It Three in Row From Cleveland When They Win.

Cleveland, Sept. 18.—Washington made it three straight here by scoring five runs in the ninth inning and defeating the Indians, 9 to 5. George Uhle in the ninth gave a base on balls and hit two batsmen.

The victory enabled Washington to remain in a tie with New York for first place in the American league race.

Washington had to use three pitchers, both Marberry and Russell being hit hard.

YANKEES DEFEAT ST. LOUIS.

Forced to Go 10 Innings to Remain in Tie With Washington For Lead.

St. Louis, Sept. 18.—The New York Yankees maintained their tie with Washington for leadership in the American league pennant race by defeating the St. Louis Browns today, 2 to 1, in a game that went 10 innings. The Yankees thus made a clean sweep of the series.

Washington and St. Louis open a three-game series here tomorrow.

R H E New York . . . 000 000 001 1—2 3 2 St. Louis . . . 010 000 000 0—1 9 0 Batteries . . . Shawkey and Benkeough; Wingo and Rice.

MACKIN: CAPTURE SERIES.

Get Three-Run Lead on Detroit in First and Never Beated.

Detroit, Sept. 18.—The second division Athletics made a clean sweep of their three-game series with the Detroit Tigers, capturing pennant contenders, by winning today's game, 5 to 2. Three runs in the first inning gave Philadelphia a lead that they held throughout the game. Helmach was wild, but kept Tiger hits scattered.

Philadelphia . . . 300 000 110—5 7 0 Detroit . . . 000 010 001—2 3 4 Batteries . . . Helmach and Perkins; Pillette, Stoner and Woodall.

CHICAGO WINS IN FIRST.

Drive Fullerton Off Mound in Opening Inning—Collins Has Perfect Day at Bat.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Chicago drove Fullerton off the mound in the first inning today and made a clean sweep of the series with Boston, 7 to 3. The game was a free-hitting affair, with Eddie Collins having a perfect day with five hits in as many times up.

The game was stopped for one minute at 4:30 o'clock while the players and the fans stood with bared heads out of respect to Frank Chance, who was buried in Los Angeles today. Chance had been manager of both clubs.

Boston . . . 010 010 010—3 14 0 Batteries . . . Fullerton, Quinn, Ross and Heaving; Lyons and Krause.

CHALLENGE FROM ALBANY.

McDonald, Route Miner, Would Meet Winner of Oneonta Bout.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 17, 1924.

Sports Editor, Star.

In behalf of Jack McDonald—the Route Miner but now of Albany—I wish to challenge the winner of the bout between Ryan and Yarchan on Tuesday night in your city.

McDonald who has stopped Whittier Allen, Ben Smith and Jess Doctor in Albany rings, besides winning over Lee Anderson, says that he can knock either of the above mentioned boys out and is more than anxious to try conclusions with them.

Jack is just after putting up a great fight with Jack Reddick at Syracuse, despite the fact that when he entered the ring he was sick and Toronto promoters are now endeavoring to get Reddick to meet Mac in a return match at that city.

Also have a number of other good boys who would like to box at Oneonta.

BENNY LEONARD

LEONARD AND THE GOLF CHAMPS!

AN INTERVIEW WITH BENNY LEONARD IN REGARD TO HIS GOLF GAME.

When did you take up golf?—"In 1914; George Lowe was my teacher."

What is your best score?—"Eighty-two last summer at the Westchester Club."

The best shot you ever made?—"I could say I made a hole in one, but don't believe in fooling myself."

The worst shot?—"When I injured my thumb on Pal Moran August 11, which postponed my fight with Mickey Walker."

Can you think of any funny incident on the links?—"Yes, I always play with champions such as Hagen, Sarazen and Kirkwood, who are good friends of mine. We always make a wager and I always lose. That's always a funny incident with me. Ha, ha!"

Do you like golf very much?—"Yes, it is my favorite sport. I cannot understand why I do not play a real fine game, because I have the following from boxing, a good eye, and am a good judge of distance. Also I can concentrate on one thing. I believe the reason for this is I do not get time to play enough, but I am going to make it my business to, to see if I can't reach par some time. Thanks for being interested in my golf game."

CONCERT AT SCHENECTUS

Misses Grimmer, Gross and Kern brought a large audience.

Schenectus, Sept. 18.—Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, the Grimmer-Gross-Kern concert company gave a performance enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience.

The stage settings, depicting an old-fashioned rose garden, were most pleasing and made a clever background for the sweet young artists, who appeared in charming costumes of an earlier period. Miss Grace E. Grimmer of Brackenridge, Pa., a lyric soprano, charmed her audience with her numerous vocal numbers. Her tones were true and clear and the sweetness of the high notes won for her hearty applause.

Miss Beatrice Gross of Cuba, N. Y., was brilliant in several difficult piano selections. Heard in duet, her mellow contralto voice added much to her rare charm. Miss Louise Kern of Schenectus, the reader of the evening, displayed a versatility unusual in so youthful an artist. Running the gamut from pathos to farce she carried her audience along in her various interpretations. Dramatic ability was clearly marked and a future career of no mean ability seems to await our young townsman.

The program was a musical story throughout with the sequence unbroken. There was unity throughout. All three are pupils of the Ithaca Conservatory of Music, and they reflect a training and technique commendable to the instruction.

Society Meetings

Regular meeting of the Women's Home Missionary society will be held Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Fred Winsor, on Upper Main street.

Regular communication of Schenectus Valley Lodge, F. & A. M., will be held Monday evening at the Masonic hall at 7:30 o'clock. This meeting will be in the nature of a get-together gathering, and members are urged to attend. Work is to be exemplified, an entertainment and also refreshments being furnished.

Tuesday evening the Eastern Stars of Schenectus chapter will meet at the Masonic hall at 7:30 o'clock. The star degree will be exemplified and refreshments served. A large attendance is desired.

Bury Home in Chateaufort

John Burroughs, the local milkman, has purchased of C. A. Deolittle the house and property he now occupies in Chateaufort. Clifton A. Deolittle has purchased the John Deolittle, Sr. place also in Chateaufort. It is reported Mr. Grimmer is looking for a place to buy in Schenectus.

Driving a New Car

Mrs. Phoebe Brownell is driving a new four passenger sport model Chrysler roadster, purchased through Charles Hubbard, the local agent. The car is a nobby one, finished in two-toned gray.

Mrs. Cora Smith Marries

Announcement has been received of the marriage of Mrs. Cora Smith and Joseph Jacka in Cleveland on Saturday, September 13. The couple have gone to their newly furnished apartment in Cleveland. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Florence Bundy, a former resident here. Heartly congratulations and best wishes are extended to the newlyweds.

Personal

Father Edward T. Reilly is spending a few days in Danbury, Conn., attending a reunion of the regiment of which he was chaplain during service overseas. — Mrs. Abbie Kiley and son, John, of Worcester, are spending a few days at the home of Patrick Friery on Lower Main street. — Mrs. John H. Wild spent Wednesday in Schenectus.

Visiting Clergymen Sunday

Services at St. Mary's Roman Catholic church Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Father Roseman of Albany will conduct the service in the absence of Rev. Father Reilly.

Services Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Church of the Holy Spirit. Rev. L. C. Denney of St. James' parish, Oneonta, will preach.

W. A. OF ARCHDEACONRY

Meeting held in St. Matthew's Church at Oneonta.

Oneonta, Sept. 18.—The meeting of the Woman's auxiliary of the Schenectus Archdeaconry at St. Matthew's church, Wednesday, was a decided success. About 125 people were in attendance. After singing a missionary hymn, prayer, and creed, Archdeacon Lyn introduced Mrs. Arthur J. Smith of Chicago. Mrs. Smith's work among the southern mountaineers and her enthusiastic interest in the work of helping them, aided in making her address impressive. Her description of their homes and difficulties to be overcome, and their faith, and their desire to be helped, was vividly and earnestly expressed.

She spoke of their need of a dispensary and the requirement for relieving suffering in cases of illness and accidents, and even death. When Mrs. Smith related the expense of getting provisions, missionary boxes, and other necessities to their mission, and said they need a "Ford," it seemed to arouse a spirit of helpfulness in the hearts of her hearers, and afterwards at the rectory, one lady offered to give $50 towards the "Ford," if the remainder required could be obtained. The amount will be raised, and Mrs. Smith was surprised and thankful for the quick response. The ladies of this archdeaconry will and means to give this useful article, and a good beginning has been made.

Many of the visitors were former missionaries and communicants of St. Matthew's, and enjoyed their return. The costumes, hangings, and antique articles of use belonging to earlier days were inspected with interest by many.

One relic of earlier days is a record book, "Journal of the Female Missionary association," the early date of May 8, 1829, records the first meeting. The meetings were held in a barn, to elect officers and to have a sermon and take a collection. On blank pages in this ancient book were registered the names of those present at this meeting of September 17, 1924.

The closing of the church program was a solo by Mrs. Cecil Stearns, a benediction. An invitation was given to partake of tea at the rectory, where an informal reception was held, and tea, sandwiches and cake were served by ladies of the church, under direction of the auxiliary president, Mrs. B. M. Pecor.

People were present from Oneonta, Franklin, Walton, Delhi, Sidney, Rockdale, Norwich, South New Berlin, Edmeston, West Burlington, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, White Plains, Chicago, Gilbertville, Bainbridge, Newark, Oxford and Morris. A generous silver offering was made.

Presbyterian Missionary Society

The Woman's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church held a very interesting rally meeting at the home of Mrs. James Vail, Tuesday afternoon. There was a large attendance and a fine program was given. The ladies of the society wish to extend their thanks for the kind hospitality of Mrs. Vail, and for her thoughtfulness in providing a way for them to go to this meeting. Next month the meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Frear, and will be called the "Guest Meeting."

In Albany City Hospital

Miss Queens Homan is recovering nicely from an operation for appendicitis. She is in the Albany City hospital.

Personal Mention

Mrs. Mahala Fink of Oneonta spent Wednesday with her daughter, Mrs. Maxwell Gregory, and attended the Woman's auxiliary meeting in St. Matthew's church. — Mrs. Arthur J. Smith went today to spend some time with her son in Hamilton, before returning to her duties. She has been delayed, because while in the mountains she fell and injured her ankle, which is getting stronger slowly. — M. E. Cleary was an over Sunday guest of his son, Ed's family, and with them rejoice over the recent arrival of a little son, Harold Michael Cleary.

CHEERY VALLEY LAD INJURED

Chester Lewis Steps Directly in Pathway of Motor Car.

Cheery Valley, Sept. 18.—Chester Lewis, son of Charles H. Lewis, of this village was run over by an automobile driven by Mrs. John Mizerah Thursday morning at about 10 o'clock. It appears that Mrs. Mizerah was driving her Ford light truck down Geneva street towards Sheffield's milk station, where she was going with the milk when Lewis stepped from the rear of another car coming up the street directly in front of the Mizerah car. Lewis was knocked down and one arm broken. That he escaped instant death is due to the fact that the Mizerah car was proceeding at a slow rate of speed. It is a very unfortunate accident as Lewis is a semi-invalid and not able to care for himself at the best.

Improving Bronson Block

John Fenner, who some time ago purchased the Bronson block, is making many improvements and will soon have it ready for tenants. It is reported that store part of the block is being converted into a chain grocery store. It is pleasing to everyone that this block is being rebuilt for ever since the fire of last winter it has been an eye sore to Cheery Valley people.

WORCESTER D. A. R. MEETS

Mrs. George Bentley Elected Delegate to National Conference.

Worcester, Sept. 18.—The September meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held at the chapter house, with Mrs. Larry Goodell, Mrs. Marjorie Wade and Mrs. C. M. Clark as hostesses. The following ladies were elected as delegates to the state conference to be held at Hornell in October: Delegate, Mrs. George Bentley; alternate, Mrs. Ella Fox, Mrs. Harry Shafer, Mrs. Marjorie Wade, Mrs. Ray Vickery, Mrs. Floyd VanDusen.

An interesting article was read by Mrs. J. Colbeck on Constitution Week and What It Means. Miss Helen Goodell rendered a delightful piano solo, following which the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

To Be Held in Worcester

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Loudon, who were married Tuesday evening in Oneonta, are expected in town this evening and will reside for the present with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mooney. Mr. Loudon is employed at the Mooney garage.

Church News

Rev. W. M. Bouton, associate superintendent of the central district of the Anti-Saloon league, will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist church at the union services Sunday evening. Mr. Bouton is a Methodist minister, and an honored member of the Wyoming conference in good standing. He is a logical thinker and a forceful, energetic speaker.

Prof. F. G. Crawford of Syracuse will speak in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning at 10:30. He is a special speaker of the Anti-Saloon league, and the head of the department of political science at Syracuse university.

Mass at St. Joseph's at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

Funerals

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Geat, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank French, who had been guests of Mrs. J. C. Lincoln, returned to New York Monday. On October 22 Mr. and Mrs. French will sell for their home in Paris, France. Recent guests of Dr. and Mrs. M. N. Nichols were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson of Hobart, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hahn of Liberty, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Laidly of North Harpersfield, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Morry of Greenwich, — Mrs. Elizabeth Griggs, C. E. Bell, Mrs. Ross Langdon and Miss Zula Whitcomb are enjoying an auto trip over the Mohawk trail. Miss Whitcomb will be the guest of her sister, M. A. J. J. Jeron, at North Adams, Mass., for a few days. — Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Removing to Delhi

Mrs. Adella Hine, who has been a resident of Walton over 50 years, is breaking up housekeeping there and will come to Delhi to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. M. K. Lewis, and her son, T. H. Hine. Mrs. Hine has spent the winters with her son and daughter here for a number of years, going back to her home in Walton for the summers.

Leaving for Clifton

Miss Estella Dean expects to leave Friday for Clifton Springs to see her sister, Miss Sarah Dean, who is taking treatment at the sanitarium there. The latter has been there about three weeks and has not shown any marked improvement as yet. Miss Clara Benedict of Meredith will accompany Miss Estella Dean to Clifton Springs and go from there to Utica to visit friends.

Oneonta Suffers Shock

William S. McLean of Oneonta recently suffered a shock which left his left side partially helpless. He is improving, however. He is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Augusta Grant of this village, who was visiting her sister, Mrs. McLean, at the time he was suddenly stricken.

Death at Sanitarium

Miss Mary Bettlor, aged 15 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vergil Bettlor of Kortright, died this morning in the County sanitarium, where she has been taking treatment for tuberculosis for more than two years. She had apparently made good improvement.

and her death was unexpected. Her twin sister died previously in the sanitarium here, having been a victim of the same disease.

Firemen's Parade Thursday

Thursday, Sept. 18th, will be firemen's day with parade and inspection during the day, band music and an address by Rev. T. C. Bookhout. In the evening the firemen will have a dance in the opera house with music by Pease's orchestra.

Brief News Notes

Editor and Mrs. R. P. McIntosh are back from a ten-days' motor tour through the New England States to Manchester, Mass., made in company with Editor W. E. Baster of the Middleburgh News and his wife. Returning they toured through the White mountains and Green mountains and visited Mr. McIntosh's brother at Burlington, Vt.—J. C. Cameron, a Pease's Brook farmer, made a good record at the Delhi fair, winning a total of fifteen first premiums. He had the best table display of garden products.—S. A. Birdsell and James Rice spent a few days this week at Springfield, Mass., where they attended the big fair races. They went by automobile and Mrs. Birdsell, who spent the past week with her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Tucker, at Springfield, returned home with them.—Mr. and Mrs. John Cunningham, accompanied by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe of Binghamton, are away on a trip to their former home near Baltimore, Md. They will visit Washington, D. C., and other points of interest.

That vicinity—Delhi friends of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Tilson, who at one time resided in this village, have news of the birth of a son, to them recently at their home in Oneida. The baby has been named Hobart Tilson, Jr.—Mrs. Susan Davidson has rented her house on Bridge street to Elmer Valentine who moves back to this village from Walton.—Richard Brownell has taken a position with the Delhi Lumber company and will have charge of the wagon repairing and horse shoeing department.—Arthur Osborn, a farmer residing near Meridale is to sell his stock, about 30 head, also horses and farm machinery at auction on his place on Sept. 25th and will also offer his farm of nearly 200 acres for sale.—Charles A. Wyer and Stanley Marvin left this morning for Providence, R. I., where they will enter Brown university as first year students. Mr. Marvin, who graduated from Delaware academy last June, is the only son of H. S. Marvin, president of the Delaware National bank. Mr. Wyer is the elder son of Ednor A. C. Wyer of the Delaware Express.—Mrs. Bruce D. Lowry of Portland, Me., is visiting her father, John C. Stoddard, for a few weeks.—Robert H. Neal of Stamford, where he is located as foreman in charge of State road work, and formerly of this village, was here yesterday to attend the funeral of William B. Hammond.—Col. Lafayette B. Gleason of New York arrived in town Tuesday, coming to visit his brother, Wallace Gleason, and to attend the Republican primary in his home town.

DEATH AT HOBART

Mrs. Frank Simmons, Native of Grand George, Passes Away.

Hobart, Sept. 18.—Mrs. Frank Simmons died at her home in the village Thursday morning, after having been confined to her bed for nine weeks.

Mrs. Simmons, formerly Amanda Hubbard, was born in Grand George in 1866. She has resided for a number of years in or near Hobart and will be greatly missed by Hobart and township people.

She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Raymond Moore, of this village, one son, Erwin Simmons, of Mameona, a sister, Sarah Simmons of Prattville, and one brother, Erwin Hubbard of Roxbury. Funeral services will be held from the Methodist Episcopal church of Hobart on Saturday at 2 o'clock. Interment in Locust Hill cemetery.

Funerals

Miss Cornelia More left Tuesday to re-enter Simmons college, Boston.—George Montgomery of Oneonta is a guest at the Montgomery home.—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ives returned Tuesday afternoon from Saybrook Manor, Conn., where they had been to close their cottage after a successful rental season. They were accompanied there by Mrs. Harry Ottens, whose husband joined them at Saybrook Manor. Mr. Ives reported the weather.—Mrs. Hannah Schoenmaker left Thursday for Highland. She has been with her sister, the Misses Frances and Emma Taylor, for three months.—Mrs. Ada Keenness, her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Wheeler, Editorial Comment.

Down in Texas the Democratic opposition of the late majority as the party candidate for governor at the recent election, are seeking by insinuations to obtain every county judge, sheriff and clerk in the state, from printing her name on the official ballot. Evidently the minority Democratic faction in the Lone Star state are bad losers. One of the reasons given for asking her name to be kept off the ballot is that the place of her children in the state is not hers. This is one of the things which every married man in the country, with experience at home if not in official position, can afford to smile.

It is announced that William J. Bryan has put his home, Villa Serena, on the market and will himself move to a more secluded spot in Connecticut. The reason given is that the place is visited every year by at least 25,000 tourists who not only view the home of the Great Commoner from the street but pass through the gates and into his private gardens. It shows how much Mr. Bryan has aged when it is stated that he looks to the change with joyful anticipation. Once there would have been nothing to him more delightful than to view a procession of 25,000 forming in line and passing through his front gate and gardens.

Dr. Leo Hebrich Baekland, president of the American Chemical society, announces that the wars of the future, owing to deadly discoveries in science, will utterly dwarf the atrocities of the last great conflict. This certainly is reason why war should be abolished. Such indiscriminate slaughter should absolutely be prohibited, but so long as nations are permitted even to a moderate extent to prepare for conflict, so long will secret preparation for wholesale slaughter go on. The only way to abolish war is for every nation to enter into one great pact whereby all nations shall lay down their arms and men learn war no more. This is a thing which few nations only cannot accomplish. Every nation should be party to the pact, and if any declines then commercial pressure and actual isolation would probably bring them into line.

The name which now is being applied to the candidate for the presidency is "The Wrecker." It is apparently a designation with force to it. His power has been augmented by fomenting a feeling of unrest and discontent in northwestern communities, he has used the machinery of the Republican party so far as he has been able for political advancement, and he is the originator of the pernicious bloc system in congress where senators and representatives under his leadership have largely destroyed party responsibility. Certainly no one who looks into the history of this self-seeking politician during forty years of a career which in the main has been destructive rather than constructive, would desire to place him at the head of the nation.

The great wall of China, once considered one of the most impregnable of barriers and a perfect defense against Manchurian and Mongolian invaders, has been bombed from the skies by Munich and Moscow forces, two of the most potent of powers using the most modern implements of war. The hundreds of years the wall has been practically useless and undemanded, but for all that the destruction of it will be deplored since it means the loss of one of the most ancient of mural structures. Chinese, Mongol and Manchurian peoples have been accredited with great reverence for ancestry and all the visible tokens thereof, but now it may be that along with other things this ancient wall must go, being unable to cope with warfare waged from the skies.

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY

"Constitutional Equality."

The authors of the American constitution, says a writer in the Current History magazine, were not what extremists when they said: "All men are born free and equal." They might have been extremists if they had said it, but they said nothing of the kind. It was the authors of the Declaration of Independence who said something like it, namely, that "all men are created equal." There is a disposition to ignore the obvious limitations on this assertion. What it meant was political and social equality. It did not mean that all men were created equal in physique, in talent, in intelligence, in character, in the opportunities of life, in the power to enjoy the advantages of their fellow-men for culture. — New Bedford Standard.

Sign of Fall.

Whether you look up at the sky, these days, or down at the ground, you see signs of fall. Thin wisps heap the heavy clouds in black piles and keep the lighter scatterings and fluffing across the face of the sun, so that the pattern of light and shade ever is changing. Tonight a heavy rain in the night, roadside bushes look dry at the roots. — Buffalo News.

Reconstruction of the Bicycle.

The revival of the bicycle is slowly being forecast in reports from Atlantic City, where figures have been cited at a convention to show an increase of 75 per cent in last year's sales over 1921. Good roads and the development of suburban residential sections have made the convenience necessary for school children. — Philadelphia Inquirer.

Football Approaches.

Round the corner football is now and then peering. The business of the fall sport of colleges, which in the past has been somewhat much in public favor, is less than a month away. That is shown in notices here and there of the dates when practices will begin. — Indianapolis News.

Problems Not Insoluble.

There is nothing insoluble about the problems now facing Europe, and if approached in the proper spirit there is no more fascinating field of study for the ordinary citizen. Signs are not wanting that a better state of mind is gradually being developed. — Washington Post.

PINDARS STILL GROWING HOPE.

Pick About 700 Boxes with No Market Available.

Hop-picking in Middleburgh was completed in the Pindar yards Wednesday when about 700 boxes were harvested. The yards were located on the William J. Pindar farm in the lower part of the village, and the Henry V. Pindar farm across the Schoharie river. These were the only yards in this section of the county and the crop is only about one-tenth of that grown by them in the years past. Thirty acres were under cultivation. Ten acres were of the early variety and had to be abandoned because they were so spoiled by lice and blue mold they were not worth the picking. These growers have now on hand several hundred bales of old hops and the wonder is why they still follow the industry, with no market for them or more bales to parties who want them. — Middleburgh Cor.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barm, M.D.

THE HEALTH OFFICER AND YOU.

When we see what our public health officers are doing for us in a general way, it certainly commands our admiration.

They watch the water and milk supply, and a case of typhoid fever immediately start an investigation as to its source.

The streets and lanes are kept clean and garbage removed and burned. Any infectious disease causes a placard to be placed on the door of the home, and the inmates avoid contact with other people.

Now, what is the result of all this? That those diseases that the public health official has to do with are decreasing, the deaths from them grow fewer in number every year. Parties who in childhood diseases do we with hundreds, yes, thousands of children in some school buildings, an epidemic of mumps, measles, scarlet fever or diphtheria is liable to break out at any time. But with the first few cases, such is the efficiency of the system, the epidemic is soon under control.

The net result is that, as I said above, the deaths from children's diseases have decreased in number to a most satisfactory extent.

However, the lesson to me in all this is that it is unfortunate that the public health official can't go right into your home, factory or office and tell you how to avoid the ailments that come on in middle or later life.

What do I mean?

Well, although the deaths among children from infectious diseases are decreasing, the deaths from simple infections in middle or later life are increasing to an alarming extent.

These infections are not ailments that have a definite name, but just the disturbances you create on the body of years, by your untimely manner of living.

I refer to the eating of too much and the wrong kinds of food. I refer to the fact that you are eating too much of the wrong food, and that you are eating too much of the wrong food, and that you are eating too much of the wrong food.

Innocent looking rabbit in a cellar is the cause of many a bad fire.

How natural to throw scraps of paper into that old box! One seldom thinks of fire dangers, or metal waste barrels, until it is too late. There is the house in flames. Perhaps a fatal loss—unless the investment is fully protected by fire insurance.

There is no better protection against fire loss than the sound indemnity of a carefully drawn insurance policy. That is why this agency represents the reliable fire insurance companies.

LOCAL MATTERS

About 450 persons were served at the Harvest Home supper of St. Mary's parish, served at the parochial school building last evening and the event was a success from every angle, about $1000 being realized.

There was a very good attendance at the three dances held in Oneonta last evening, the benefit street dance, the Firemen's dance at Municipal hall and the special fair event at the Oneonta Dancing academy.

The item in Wednesday's Star announcing a picnic by the Women's club on Saturday last was an error, due to a misunderstanding of a telephone conversation. The club will doubtless hold a picnic this fall, but the date is not yet determined.

An error was made in the published interview with Mrs. Caroline Strong, appearing in The Star of yesterday. The trees to which she referred were planted by her great grandfather, James McDonald, and not her father, John McDonald, as stated.

A false alarm from box 132 took the fire department to the Paragon Silk mill at West End shortly after 6 o'clock last evening. The dust raised by the large number of cars which followed the trucks to the scene rivaled the best smoke screen, and many were certain that they smelled smoke.

The Ladies' Garment shop, a new department of Greenberg's store at Main street, will soon be ready for its formal opening, a shipment of ready-made gowns, wraps having already been received. The shop will contain all modern conveniences, including four-piece suits, two fitting rooms, ample floor space and display arrangements of the very latest.

YOUR SUPPORT NEEDED.

Boy Scouts Now Soliciting Memberships in County Athletic Society.

You will be assisting a most worthy county activity and helping to defend the dumb animals from the cruelty of some individuals and at the same time encouraging the young men of the Boy Scouts to do their part in civic and community work if you respond cheerfully to their appeals to enroll either as members or supporters of the County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The drive in the county is in their hands and the furtherance of the work is quite largely dependent upon the response to appeals for support. The work which the society has done during the past year is familiar to all Star readers and it should appeal to all who have a heart or give a thought to those faithful servants of humanity who are at the mercy of cruel owners, were it not for the activities of this society.

Certainly if the citizens of the county are not willing to give so much as a membership, then it can hardly be expected that Mrs. Hyde will be willing to give her time and energy to protect the dumb animals of the county. To win with this work for man, manifest your desire by contributing.

CO. G ATHLETICS.

Officers of Guardmen's Association Chosen—To Put Teams in Field.

After the last drill of Co. G of this city held at the armory, a meeting of the athletic association of that organization, including as members every Guardman, was held and officers were elected as follows: President, James Nagle; vice-president, Ralph Townsend; secretary, Herbert Palmer; and treasurer, Gould Brown. It was decided to support the usually fast Co. G basketball team this season and the outlook is for another winning squad. A number of games are pending and now will be booked and it is expected that the vacant dates will soon be taken by vicinity teams, with whom Co. G has always been matched.

It was also decided to put at least two indoor baseball teams in the field, with the expectation that the coming winter will see a revival of that once popular sport.

Reckless Children on Streets.

Yesterday forenoon a lad of five or six years was standing at the corner of Church street and Lavin avenue with three companions when a motor car came up Church and when about to enter Lavin avenue the driver spotted his horn and the group, apparently went back from the crosswalk to the walk on the avenue. The driver had made more than half of the curve when the lad, without looking toward the approaching car, darted across the avenue diagonally and away from the car, with his hand to his head. Only by a narrow margin did he miss hitting the car.

Parents owe it to their offspring to instruct them carefully and direct them never to attempt to dart across the street ahead of an approaching car.

Craftsmen at Winter Park.

With favorable weather, which there is good reason to anticipate, there will doubtless be a large attendance at the basket picnic and ball game to be held tomorrow and Sunday at Winter Park by the Associated Craftsmen of the Delaware & Hudson company. The picnic will begin at 10 a. m., the dinner will be at noon, and later there will be a concert by Kevin's band and many ball games for which liberal prizes are offered. All are cordially invited to attend.

Fourth Day of Oneonta Fair Full of Thrills—Record Crowd at Grounds

Smartly Contested Races, Thrilling Double Parachute Drop, High Class Entertainment Specialties and Exhibits Prove Big Attraction—Coach Horsemanship of State Troopers Arouses Enthusiasm—Extra Heat Necessary to Double First Track Event—Tangled Ropes Endanger Two Air Artists in Balloon Ascention—Management Promises Another Attractive Program Today.

Smartly contested races, a thrilling double parachute drop from a balloon, high class specialties in entertainment, surmounted by a thrilling battle between State Troopers, police and pickpockets, in which three men were arrested and lodged in the Oneonta jail, were among the features carried up to a capacity crowd which thronged the grounds at the Oneonta fair yesterday.

One of the brightest spots in this year's big outdoor event is the high class specialty acts which have been provided by the management. Probably the most intense interest aroused each day is due to the spectacular exhibition of horsemanship before the grandstand by the picked team of troopers from Troop C, New York constabulary, at Sidney.

The troopers were first prize at the State fair in Syracuse and their demonstration of efficiency under the leadership of Captain D. E. Fox, was a revelation to a vast number of persons who have been able to get an accurate estimate of the value of the troopers in protecting rural sections and acting in emergencies in more thickly settled communities when the necessity arises.

Young, browned by exposure, well knit and hard as nails from well governed and consistent exercise in the open, the military clad officers rode as if a part of their animals, swayed under them as full gallop, rode them nimbly and in bunches, used them for mounds against an imaginary enemy riding full pace, drove them through fire, stood on their heads in the middle and otherwise showed their mastery of the finer points in the equestrian art.

Balloon Office Thrills.

One of the biggest thrills of the day came late in the afternoon during the balloon ascention and double parachute drop. When the balloon rose, thousands of spectators held their breath when they saw that the two parachutes, one hanging above the other and each carrying a human burden, had become entangled. The two men struggled to straighten out the ropes as the big bag mounted upward. The first parachute then was cut loose and as it started to descend, it caught in the mass of ropes holding the second. For an instant it appeared that neither man would be able to cut away from the balloon, when finally the first parachute broke away and opened successfully, soon to be followed by the second.

The big bag failed to turn over and drop and finally drifted out of sight over the hills.

During competition featured the three races of the afternoon, spectators for the best two out of three heats for a $100 purse, resulted in a different horse winning each heat, necessitating a fourth heat between the three winners to determine the division of the purse. Twin Six, owned by the Wheeler & Wilson stable, Stamford, won the first heat; Rupeal, owned by W. H. Austin of Walton, the second, and Robert Cope, James Callahan's black gelding, from Chatham, the third.

Winn Final Heat.

In the final heat to determine the winner, Starter W. H. Bush, sent them away to a good start with the three horses bunched less than half a length apart. In the first eighth, Robert Cope burst from the outside and took the pole. At the half they were bunched, the black back in his original position. Robert Cope came through on the outside and won by two lengths over Rupeal, with Twin Six trailing.

The second track event, a 2:15 trot for a $100 purse, went to Elizabeth Parole, owned by William Johnson of Peapack Manor, in straight heats. The last race, the 2:14 pace, for a $100 purse, was won by Bellardine, owned by E. G. Camp of Oneonta, in straight heats.

The management announced that tomorrow would prove another attractive day, as the same program will be given as has been given each day. Frequent commendation of the management was heard because of the attractive and clean character of the attractions this year. The grounds were packed with cars and the grandstand was filled to capacity during the races.

The annual event proves a joy for the kiddies. Pink lemonade, hot dogs, the Ferris wheel, merry-go-round, seaplane and numerous other devices were well patronized while the largely diversified displays of machinery for farm and home, livestock, arts and crafts, school work, keep the grown-ups busy. The dining hall under the management of the women of the Elm Park church served meals to a capacity crowd.

BOXING CARD COMPLETED

Arrangements Completed for Benefit Athletic Carnival in Connection with Celebration Tuesday.

Final arrangements have been made for the boxing bouts to be staged at the local D. & H. arena on Tuesday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock as a part of the celebration in honor of the placing of the caboose of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in Oneonta park. The bouts will be concluded by 10 o'clock so that all may attend the ball at the armory later.

Oneonta will be particularly pleased to know that Lewis Hodge, champion of D. Hopkins lodge, No. 1, is to oppose Kid Crooks of Binghamton. Hodge is a shifty and crafty boxer and will make the Kid show some fast ability if he is to emerge victor.

The Hodge Kid, two sons of Louis Hodge, will give another of their three two-minute rounds exhibition. These boys are heavy slammers, willing to take as well as to give a solid punch, and in the past their feature has proven a big favorite.

Billy Burke of Endicott, a Southern Tier champion, is to meet Tommy Connors of this city in another of the four round preliminaries.

The preliminaries fill out the card in excellent manner and E. D. Laker, who is promoting the exhibition for the D. & H. Athletic association, last evening, stated that those in attendance would see action every minute.

The expense of this entertainment is considerably in excess of anything heretofore undertaken, but Mr. Laker is confident of the ability of fight fans to appreciate the attractions of the card.

The main go of the evening is to be between Frank Yarchan of New York city, champion of the eastern division of the card, and Marty Ryan, former champion of the navy and the favorite of the entire D. & H. sport.

While the bouts are arranged primarily for the victors in the city on Tuesday, still all fans in this vicinity are cordially invited to be present.

HOME IMPROVEMENT PLANS

Modern Plans Will Be Made of Oneonta Chamber House.

Oneonta will have an opportunity to break into the movie land Tuesday when the old U. & H. chamber is dedicated in Oneonta park. The company will mark the founding of the brotherhood of Railway trainmen in the structure forty years ago in this city.

According to an announcement made by the committee yesterday one of the largest new road members of the country will have a camera man and machine here. Motion pictures also will be made of the banquet to be held at the Elks' club after the ceremony in the park. The committee on arrangements have expressed the hope that an unusually large crowd will be at the park as the members of the local lodge of railway trainmen expect to screen the picture in this city.

The scene at the grand ball in the evening at the state armory also will be photographed. The feature of the decorations will be an electrical shower which will provide brilliant illumination for the ballroom. This lighting is rarely seen outside of big events of a similar nature in New York city. Wiesenseyer's celebrated orchestra of Huntington, W. Va., will play for the dancing.

LEADERS CLUB ORGANIZED

High School Gymnasium Amateurs Elect Officers and Make Plans.

The fifteen members of the Oneonta High school Leaders club have elected the following officers for the coming school year: President, Axel Perman; vice president, Reginald Hurdick; secretary-treasurer, Harold Keen, and social chairman, Judson Lutsy.

The leaders class was instituted at the High school last year and is doubtless known to all interested in the school. It is made up of the most proficient members of the various gymnasium classes of the school, who after receiving preliminary instruction at the club meetings one evening each week assist the class teacher in some of the details work.

A competition has been arranged for the gymnasium classes of the school this year, and the three who have the highest standings in all classes will be awarded suitable prizes. There will necessarily be a special contest among the members of the leaders class.

Football workouts are being held frequently, and while no games are to be undertaken this year, still much good material is being found and the prospects look bright for next year.

To Confirm Large Class.

A class of fully 100 is meeting at the St. Mary's parochial school building every afternoon at 4 o'clock in preparation for a confirmation which is to be held there in October by Bishop Edmund F. Gibbons of the Albany diocese.

More than 3000 were placed in the dress covering the statue as this year's procession moved along.

FAMOUS ONEONTA BENEFACTOR

Death of Mrs. Henry E. Huntington Brings to Mind Her Husband's Gifts to City.

The husband of the late Mrs. Henry E. Huntington, intelligence of whose death was received in this city on Wednesday, will be remembered as a native of Oneonta and a generous benefactor of this city. His former residence now being used as the Huntington Memorial Library.

As an art and book collector, Mr. Huntington is recognized as second in rank to J. Pierpont Morgan, among his most famous collections being "The Blue Boy" a Gainsborough bought from the Duke of Westminster for a sum of $540,000; the Gutenberg Bible, the first book ever printed with movable type; the first edition of the King James Bible; an autographed first edition of a Ben Jonson play; the first galley proof of the Constitution of the United States; first editions of Shakespeare's sonnets; the original script of Robert Burns' "To Mary in Heaven," and others equally as rare.

Mr. Huntington maintains two New York city residences, a mansion in Oak Hill, Cal., a country home at Throggs Neck, while his former Oneonta home has been endowed with a library fund of $250,000.

ROTARIAN C. K. CHAMPLIN

MAKES Eloquent Appeal FOR SELF SACRIFICING DEVOTION TO OTHERS.

At Noon Day Luncheon of Oneonta Rotary at Elks' Club yesterday—some Mirthful Musical Numbers Follow—Good Follow Up Work For Continuation in School—Rotarians to Entertain Four Boys Each at Early Luncheon.

"To gain we must give, to win we must lose and to triumph we must sacrifice." Charles K. Champlin told his fellow Rotarians at the noon-day luncheon yesterday at the Elks' club. Mr. Champlin, who is a member of the Red Bank, N. J., club, and who has a 100 per cent attendance record, being the principal speaker and giving his hearers an address which they commended highly because of its sincerity and genuineness.

Mr. Champlin told his hearers that this was his 21st consecutive fair week visit to Oneonta and that he felt that it is much like coming back home, for while he knows comparatively few by name, yet he knows many faces and wishes keenly that he knew more personally. He commended highly the ideals of Rotary and commented at some length upon the satisfaction experienced by doing good to others and also upon the difficulty of giving and giving rightly. It should not be done for applause, but preferably secretly, and sacrifice should be the foundation stone. The speaker said that he knows of no better motto to adopt and to follow through life than that of the Boy Scouts, "Do a good turn daily." In your giving have no conditions and no reservations. Mr. Champlin said that he had made it a rule to do a kind deed daily and that it comes to be the chief thought until it is done. He urged all his hearers to start following the plan, if not already a fixed habit of life.

Continuing further his remarks the speaker declared that it is important that one lead a clean life and have respect for sacred things. While he held himself up as no paragon, he has felt a respect for the Sabbath and has never learned a part, held a rehearsal or written a business letter on that day. This had been a balance wheel he declared.

Before closing Mr. Champlin urged upon Rotarians that the organization should mean better men and better business and, in this connection, he recited that poem by Edgar A. Guest, the keynote of which is, you will like a man if you know him, and suggested that a Rotarian can do nothing more worth while than go out once daily and find some man whom he dislikes and make him a friend.

Rotarians Harris L. Cooke, Frank B. Shipman and George H. Carley, all of Cooperstown, were in attendance and rendered a musical number and, not to be outdone, Messrs Arthur M. Curtis, George J. Dann, Henry C. Sherman and Daniel Franklin contributed a quartet number, which was a winner, the applause accorded them causing the usually sedate Curtis to do a specialty act for the amusement of his fellow Rotarians. A second local quartet composed of Eugene L. Ward, Curtis L. Denney, Dr. David H. Mills and Dr. Lester S. Lang also added a similar number. It also increased the general spirit of mirth that prevailed. The inimitable I. J. Rookhous completed the musical portion of the program with a solo of volume and merit.

At the meeting Mr. Rookhous distributed to members four cards, upon each of which is the name of a High school boy, with a brief statement about him. Every Rotarian is expected to invite each of the boys named upon his cards to a luncheon before the close of the year and to endeavor to interest him in the ideals of Rotary and in good citizenship.

As a concrete example of the practical results obtained from the campaign for continuation of school work, it was reported that one young man, a Junior in the High school—had felt impelled to leave school to assist his home as a wage earner, but when his case was brought to the attention of a Rotarian part-time employment was secured for him and he will complete his course in the High school. Guests at the luncheon in addition to the Cooperstown gentlemen named were Robert Briggs, Mr. Perschke of the High school faculty and Miss Mary Charlotte Denney, all of this city.

FORMER ONEONTA TEACHER

Mrs. Jane Metro Speck Passed Away at Home in Nassau.

Announcement is made in Albany newspapers of the death at her home near Nassau on Sept. 16, of Jane Helen Pratt, wife of the late David L. Speck. The funeral services are to be held from her late home this afternoon with interment there.

Years ago probably a third of a century and perhaps more she was a teacher in the public schools of this city and is remembered by older residents. Her age was 71 years. She was a native of Columbia county, but came to Portlandville this county when a young girl after the death of her father.

She leaves children residing at Nassau. Mrs. Lester A. Hopkins and Mrs. A. R. Page of this city and Mrs. C. L. Penton of Albany, also well known here, are nieces of the deceased.

Dr. Elting in Consultation.

Kellogg, who has been confined to his residence on Ford avenue since his return from Ithaca, has not been as well for the past two days and his ailment has now been diagnosed as gall bladder infection. Dr. Elting of Albany was in the city yesterday in consultation with the attending physician. Justice Kellogg's condition yesterday was an improvement over that of the previous day. His many friends are hoping for early reports of permanent relief from the ailment.

Star Advertising Profitable.

In a note to The Star business office, Fred J. Joyce, the Unadilla merchant, who frequently advertises his house furnishings and other goods in The Star, says: "In spite of the business depression and the fact that most stores are reporting dull times, our sales for the current year have increased $10,000. The Star must be a good advertising medium." A word to the wise is sufficient.

Prior to coming to Oneonta on Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Ostrander had visited with old friends in Binghamton, where they formerly resided.

Mrs. S. A. Terry, Mrs. Agnes Parks and Carey S. Blend of this city left yesterday morning for Keeseop, accompanying the body of Rev. Mr. Terry, for whom there will be a short service at that place this morning, followed by interment in Evergreen cemetery.

WORLD DOMINION BEING TRANSFERRED

millions now living will never die

The rapid changes of government among the nations seem only to check temporarily the steady approach to utter collapse. Thrones are toppled over to make way for military dictators. Officials of republics serve only the selfish interests of big business; and instead of an improvement of affairs, each new move leaves the nation weaker. Suffering is increased; lawlessness becomes rampant; and hopelessness is followed by despair. This march of the nations toward destruction and anarchy moves onward relentlessly. Armageddon, which nations seek to avert by their union, leagues, associations, and federations, brings up threateningly. Yet man need not entirely despair. This tremendous period of earth's history was foretold as immediately preceding the new order—a righteous world-wide government.

BRIGHT LIGHTS RID ORCHARD OF MOTHS

Peach Grower Tries an Interesting Experiment.

Swedesboro, N. J.—The candle flame that stings the moth's wings has furnished the idea upon which late Isaac Weatherby, owner of one of the largest farms and peach orchards in southern New Jersey, has elaborated in his fight against the Oriental moth, pest and most destructive of the pears that have attacked peaches in the East.

Instead of using candles, however, Mr. Weatherby has been more modern. He has had an electric lighting system constructed in his 60-acre peach orchard. At night the orchard is a blaze of light. Around the incandescent light bulbs flutter myriads of moths and other insects. Their wings are not stung but those attracted closest to the lights become dazzled and fall into large, shallow pans, one of which is set a few inches below each electric globe. These pans are filled with kerosene, which kills all moths and insects that touch it.

Electric lights are in common use among poultry breeders to make the hens get up earlier so that they will scratch more and lay better, but the Weatherby farm boasts of the first electrically lighted orchard in the country. The orchard is set upon a hill, and from a distance it looks like a pleasure park. Thousands of motorists have had their curiosity aroused by the unusual sight.

Peach Grower for Thirty Years.

"I realized last year that I would either have to do something to stop the moths or they would finish me," said Mr. Weatherby, who has been growing peaches for more than thirty years and who declares that the Oriental moth has caused more havoc in his orchards than any other pest, with the possible exception of the borer. The fruit growers now have the borer under control, but they have found no effective means of combating the Oriental moth with the usual poisonous sprays.

"This electric light system was put in early in the summer," continued Mr. Weatherby. "It has cost me a lot of money and I've learned a lot about moths. I have learned that there isn't much use of wasting electric current on moonlight nights. There are few moths in the traps after a full moon."

"Even on the dark nights I have found that the moths and other insects are thicker at some hours than at others. When the lights were first put in I made regular inspection trips to the orchards at all hours of the night. Eleven o'clock seems to be the witching hour for the moths. Early in the evening they are not so thick. I have visited the traps at two o'clock in the morning and haven't seen a single insect fluttering about the lights. At eleven o'clock I have found swarms of them."

Mr. Weatherby pointed out the Oriental moth. It is a small, gray moth, scarcely more than twice as big as a fly. The moth lays its eggs at the tips that hatch out borers into the pith of the shoot for an inch or two. After it strikes the tougher bark he crawls to another twig or bores into the green fruit.

Baits at Poison.

This pest seems to have an instinctive repulsion against poison sprays and powders, as horticultural experts have discovered that it spits out the first bite it takes of a twig or skin of a peach and eats only beneath the surface where the poisons that kill most of the other insects do not penetrate.

When Mr. Weatherby first discovered the extent of their damage last summer he tried out a system of oil lanterns and pans in a section of his orchard. These he replaced with the electric lights as more practical this year. Furthermore, he says that he has had "an army as big as Grant's" cutting off the grub-infested twigs wherever they are found, which is very readily done as the end of the twig or shoot begins to wilt as soon as the moth stings it and lays its eggs.

"Oriental moths are apparently everywhere now," explained Mr. Weatherby. "You can find them on the most isolated peach tree as well as in the big orchards. I don't know whether my lights are really exterminating all the moths that they should or whether they are attracting more moths from other parts of the country. Maybe when all of the rest of the fruit growers get to fighting the Oriental moth, or its natural parasite enemies catch up with it, we can at least get the pest under control. Until then nobody can buy my lighting outfit."

Work Where You Are

If you intend to go to work, there is no better place than right where you are; if you do not intend to go to work, you cannot get along anywhere. Squirming and crawling about from place to place can do no good—Abraham Lincoln.

Large King Crabs

King crabs, found mostly off the island of Japan, measure from three to five feet from tip of tip of their great claws; the largest ever caught is recorded as having been nineteen feet from tip to tip and weighing forty pounds.

Largest Army and Navy

Russia has the largest standing army, numbering 1,200,000 men. The reserves, including militia, amount to 2,000,000. Great Britain has the largest navy in the world—712 vessels with a tonnage of 2,412,140.

Jan. 24 Is Date for Next

Total Eclipse of Sun Washington.—While on total eclipses of the sun are noted for this year, one of the best opportunities for observing a total eclipse of the sun will be afforded the eastern part of the country early in the coming year, officials at the United States naval observatory here say.

On January 24, 1925, the sun will be in total eclipse. This will start at sunrise just beyond Lake Superior. Its path will be on into New York state and lower New England. Eastern New York and southern New England will be the best positions for observations.

Another total eclipse will take place January 14, 1926. This will start in Africa, crossing the Indian ocean and the island of Sumatra in the Dutch East Indies and the lower islands of the Philippines.

Judging will commence at 3 o'clock this feature, while necessarily held early in the day, always interests many admirers of the horse and many who have been interested. Those who have entries should have them in the grounds at the hour named.

Special Prizes Offered.

The fair management has offered a special prize of $50 for the largest and best display of premium stock, owned by one man or partners on one farm, seen in the grand parade of prize winning cattle and horses held today at 1 p. m.

There are also several special prizes for herds of any dairy breed, for cow and two progeny and for sire and two progeny, and for best female two years old or over of any dairy breed.

Today's Racing Entries.

Today, the final day of the fair, should witness some good races. The mainline, camp's fast mare, which won one race earlier in the week, will doubtless start in the free-for-all,
for which the purse is $1,000. The Brief Fair Notes.

One wonders on witnessing the crowd in attendance yesterday what the attendance might be were the weather the night previous to one of the two big days to be fair and the sky bright on a morning. The parking space on the grounds was all occupied yesterday.

Harold Shuttle of Schenectady won the first prize for the largest and best variety of vegetables grown by the exhibitor. The second prize went to Walter S. Marsland of Otego. Both had good exhibits.

While there were a few local exhibitors in poultry show there were especially large winners. J. C.
Kramer of Middleport and Tripp & Sons of Dundee. Both came with a large number of birds and carried away the bulk of the prizes.

The state troopers from Troop C at Schenectady were in the grounds fair and one wonders how the fair could get along without them. In handling crowds they are experts and they are proving their worth in many ways in the state. They have done excellent work throughout the fair while their riders give one of the best exhibitions.

Mr. DeVoy of the River Street Greenhouses was the only exhibitor in the professional class in the department of flowers. He had a fine show and carried away a goodly sum in prizes, including one of $50 for the best exhibit of plants and flowers.

How the motor car has changed things! Not so many years ago one could tell by the arrivals on the morning trains and the people seen about the streets just about the relative size of the crowd at the grounds.

Nowadays down town sees comparatively few of the people on the grounds. They drive in from all directions, taking often a side street to the grounds and remain on the grounds until they depart for home.
The ladies of the Elm Park church have been serving three meals daily at the refreshment stand under the roof garden and have enjoyed a good patronage. Many of the exhibitors and attendants upon the concessionaries have patronized the stand and good service has been rendered.
Starter W. H. Bush of Newburgh has sustained the favorable opinion created the opening day and assisted in making the races interesting to watch and quite probably it is believed satisfactory to the drivers, for most of them are good sports and want a fair deal accorded to all.

Refugee Family Tells of Hardships in Mexico

Kearfott, Va.—Deprived of their ranch and property accumulated in 19 years of hard work and forced by the Mexican revolution to flee peacefully and without food, Wilhelm von Waldenfels and his family of four have arrived here en route to Germany.
They brought a harrowing tale of flight from their home in the interior of Tabasco, a 45-hour trip down the Coatzacoatz river to Frontera in a dilap-dated sailboat steered by a Mexican pilot; of lost direction and the piling of the craft on the rocks and the flight against drowning and, finally, of the long journey about from Frontera to Vera Cruz.

At Vera Cruz the refugees, hungry and cold, had their first bit of good luck in the presence in the harbor of a steamer. They had no money, but Captain Grashoff, a fellow countryman, waved aside the question of passage.

Let 'Company Manners' Reign
It may be odd to let "company manners" reign for two or three hours after the company is gone.

Boon Companion Not Liked
A boon companion is seldom looked upon as a boon by the family of the man he associates with.

Which means more money to you—your wages or your compensation from the insurance company when you are sick or disabled? Your wages, of course. Then why not take the quickest, most certain way of getting back again on the active list.

Insurance

Perhaps you don't know that most insurance companies recognize the signatures of Chiropractors for compensation claims. They know that under Chiropractic adjustments the workmen will get back to work quicker, and they'll have less to pay out for compensation.

KIRKMAN'S SOAP
CHIPS

PURE SOAP

for Heavy Washing

for Washing Dishes

for Dainty Garments

Try these Perfect Chips for EVERY purpose

DELICATE, flaky little chips with a hidden cleansing power quickly discovered the minute you put them in your wash-tub, wash-bowl, washing-machine or dish-pan.

Watch the thick, creamy suds go right through your heaviest wash with only a light rubbing—notice how clean and fresh your fabrics are, with a whiteness like new.

IN your dish-pan, the grease melts away—your dishes are done in half the time. Stains and dust and dirt on your floors, wood-work and linoleum disappear quickly and easily with only a little scrubbing.

Try these marvelous little chips—notice how few you use and how much work they do —you'll agree that you have found the PER-FECT SOAP CHIPS for every purpose.

DO you know why fewer KIRKMAN'S SOAP CHIPS do a more thorough washing with complete and satisfying safety? Because KIRKMAN'S SOAP CHIPS, like all KIRKMAN Soap Products, are guaranteed to be absolutely FREE from SILICATE of SODA.
Both your clothes and your hands will appreciate their harmless and soothing cleansing action.

What Is Silicate of Soda?

SILICATE of SODA is a product made by the melting together of sand, soda-ash and charcoal. When water is added, this chemical is known as "Water Glass."

It is extensively used as glue, and when used in soap, we consider it not only an absolute adulterant, but harmful alike to hands and fabrics. All Kirkman Products are guaranteed Free from Silicate of Soda.

And She Had to Comb It!

Girls how would you like to have to comb hair as long as this? Miss Lydia McPherson admits it's a hard job. But she wouldn't have it today for all the world. Miss McPherson, winner of the long hair contest at the California State Fair in Sacramento, is seen here showing the length of her locks to Peggy Chamberlain, bobbed-haired musical comedy actress.

WHO IS HAROLD S. TOLLEY?

Some Faith in the Ministry of Man Who Revived John D. Clarke in the Congressional Fight.

The following sketch of Harold S. Tolley, the young Binghamtonian who defeated Hon. John D. Clarke in the Republican congressional fight in the Binghamton Mountain Sun and will interest many Star readers: The successful congressional primary candidate is one of the hottest political lights on record in the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Tolley and was born January 14, 1894, in Honesdale, Pa. He came to this city about 22 years ago and has lived here since, with the exception of the years when he was attending college and serving in the war, and one year during which he was assistant pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church attended by the late General Grant.

After going through the elementary school here, Mr. Tolley attended the local high school. During his high school course Mr. Tolley distinguished himself in literature and debate. He served as editor-in-chief of the high school "Panorama." He was president of the school congress and the debating society, and was chief lecturer for the school. His graduation from the high school in 1912 was followed by a course in Syracuse university, and after graduation from that institution he took a postgraduate course in New York University. During his university work, he received recognition as an honor student. He was a member of Phi Kappa Alpha, and distinguished himself in university and fraternal circles as an eloquent public speaker and debater.

His career was interrupted by the outbreak of the World War May 12, 1917. He served more than two years, gaining the rank of captain. He was commander of the Fourth Provisional Battalion, North Pioneer Infantry, with distinction. In the Meuse Argonne drive he served with the first army. He returned home in July, 1919, and at once entered the retail shoe business with his father. He is still connected with military affairs in an official capacity. He is an executive officer of the 14th Field Artillery, New York National Guard, with the rank of captain.

For three years he has been a member of the executive committee of the American legion. He served as chairman of the post for a year. He headed the county delegation attending the State convention in 1923 and at the present time is a member of the State military affairs committee. Mr. Tolley is a member of Binghamton lodge, No. 177, E. & A. M. On October 6, 1917, Mr. Tolley was married to Miss Margaret Germond of this city, a graduate of Syracuse university. They have two children, Douglas Germond, aged four and a half years, and Eleanor Grace aged two years.

Cyclone's Freak

Fayetteville, Ark.—An Arkansas cyclone turned a peculiar stunt here when it sucked six freight cars out of a rapidly moving train and piled them up in a promiscuous heap by the side of the right of way. The force of the wind tore them loose from the couplings, but oddly enough picked them out so quickly and cleanly that no other part of the train was not affected and no wreck occurred. Railroad men said it was the most unusual accident they had ever witnessed. The cars and their contents were almost a total wreck.

ARREST 3 AT FAIR

Alleged Pickpockets and Dope Addict Gave Battle to Trooper and Police

CAUGHT IN ACT, IS CLAIM

Charles McEwan, Troy; Max Stern, Albany, and John Preller, New York City, Lodged in City Jail—Alleged Drug Addict and Dope Addict—When Seized, May Authorities—Four Staged Fight With Brown and O'Hanley in Jail.

Three men, alleged to be pickpockets and drug addicts, were arrested at the Binghamton fairgrounds after a battle with a state trooper and special police which began at the grounds and ended in a cell at the Oneonta city lock-up where one of the men made a frantic effort to destroy a sack of alleged drug which the police declare they found fastened to his underwear when they searched him for the second time in his cell.

The three arrested declared they are Max Stern, 312 Main street, Albany; Charles McCann, Sixth avenue, Troy; and John Preller, 281 Edgemoor avenue, New York city. The arrests were made by Trooper Leo O'Hanley, and Special Officers D. D. Brown and Ralph Wyckoff. The authorities declared that a search of the men disclosed more than $200 in cash, dope kits, a supply of drug and hypodermic needles. They were held at police headquarters at a late hour this morning pending investigation by City Attorney Donald H. Grant. Oneonta police officials and the state constabulary, before formal charges are made.

Had Been Watched

The three men had been under surveillance for several days. The authorities received their first concrete tip that pickpockets were operating at the fair when Lorenzo Wayman of Ashland reported that $140 in bills were "lifted" from his hip pocket last Wednesday afternoon. Wayman said that he believed the money was taken when he was jostled as he stood in front of the grand stand on the race track watching the entertainments on the roof next to the judges' stand. He declared that the money was planned in his pocket and that about fifteen minutes afterward he discovered that both money and safety pin were gone.

Officer Brown yesterday noticed the three wandering about the grounds and frequently "boxing" a man by the crowd which was waving the inflation of the balloons when he again saw them close on another man. He called the men Officer Wyckoff who he followed to his aid. Brown declared that he saw McCann put his hand in the victim's hip pocket and partially withdrew a black object while McCann's two companions crowded him closely on either side.

At this juncture Brown and Wyckoff took a hand and grabbed all three who made a stubborn resistance and a terrific fight followed in which Brown was kicked in the back by a fourth individual who is believed to have been a friend of the three under arrest. During the struggle one of the men broke away and the two officers started toward the gate in a running race with the other two.

Third Is Caught

State Trooper O'Hanley who was on top of a building near the judges' stand heard of the row and jumped to the ground. He went to the assistance of the other two officers and when the party arrived at the gate, the third alleged light-fingered culprit was found and placed under arrest. They were taken to police headquarters.

When searched McCann had $127 in money, a sack of alleged dope and a hypodermic needle. Stern when searched before being taken to a cell disclosed $118 in cash and a complete dope kit but no drug was found. John Preller had $103 in cash and a bag containing a white powder believed to be morphine. Not satisfied with their search of Stern, Brown and O'Hanley went to the man's cell where they forced him to take off his clothes. It was then that the bag of drugs was found in Stern's underwear, according to the officers, and he again put up a fight in an effort to knock the powder into a wash bowl and destroy it. During the melee, Stern is alleged to have kicked O'Hanley in the hip, painfully bruising him, after which O'Hanley promptly ended the struggle by pinning the man to the floor. Mileage books bought in Rochester were found on two of the men.

FIGHTS DAMAGE SUIT

Thomas J. Friery of Schenectady Asks For $1,500 Damages From D. & H. For Flooding Lands.

Damages of $1,500 are asked by Thomas J. Friery of Schenectady, a farmer, against the Delaware & Hudson Railroad company, for the construction of a dam and ditch which diverts the water from a spring nearly so that his farm has been naturally damaged and the ground made valueless by flooding during high water, he claims. He also asks for an injunction restraining the railroad company from continuing the dam and ditch which he claims diverts the water from its natural course and is a menace to his farm.

The action which has been in the courts about five years was first tried before Supreme Court Justice Theodore H. Tuttle, but he died before a decision could be rendered. Yesterday morning the testimony in the case was presented for decision to Justice Leon C. Rhodes at Binghamton, after lengthy legal arguments by Alva F. Friery, attorney representing Mr. Friery, and Judge N. P. White, representing the railroad company.

Both attorneys were ordered to submit briefs within a week after which a decision will be made. Mr. Friery said that previous to the construction of the dam and ditch the water from the spring that Mr. Friery's farm had been valuable and productive. After the dam and ditch were constructed he said the low land on the farm had been flooded about 11 times during the spring freshet and during heavy rains. During one winter the water froze and pipes in the barn and some of Mr. Friery's trees were killed. The water had to be bailed by hand for six weeks.

Mr. White declared that the work of the railroad was in no way responsible for the condition of the farm and declared that water from

ONEONTA'S INDUSTRIES

Expansion Desired by Many Oneontans Now Operating in This City: Suitable Accommodations Only Required.

A number of Oneonta's thriving industries have expressed the desire of expansion to Secretary MacEwan of the Chamber of Commerce, who feels that such news will prove of interest to all concerned with the growth of Oneonta. He has for some time had similar matters under consideration, and is working in the hope of encouraging the industrial growth of the city.

The only difficulty which has been encountered is that of finding suitable locations, and while it is felt that cooperation on the part of citizens should soon care for this matter, still Mr. MacEwan has been unable to locate sufficient plants.

Among the concerns which would employ more help at once if room were available are the Paragon and Quality silk companies.

The Quality company would like to build an addition to its already spacious plant on Hickory street, but would in some way arrange the financing over a period of a few years. While it seems that this will be easily arranged, Mr. MacEwan would like to entertain suggestions as to the manner in which the proposition could be cared for.

The Paragon Silk company is another concern which would like more space so that additional hands could be employed. They would prefer an additional location nearer their business section than their present one at East End, at least one in another section of the city.

This company is one of the most steady in Oneonta, there having been very few slack periods during its long term in Oneonta. However their machinery is bulky and quite heavy, with large rooms a necessity in any plant.

Such a building has not yet been found by the Chamber of Commerce and any suggestions along this line will also be welcomed.

Such activity is most encouraging for the future of Oneonta, and Secretary MacEwan feels that every consideration should be given to finding accommodations for these concerns.

A gorge on South Mountain nearly caused the floods on the farm. He said that witnesses had testified that efforts had been made by neighbors to have Mr. Friery cultivate the land but he had told them he could get more out of the railroad company than he could by working the property.
